DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 113 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hyon et al., or Yamauchi et al., for reasons cited in previous actions.

4. Claims 113-119 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tanihara et al., Ku et al., Yao et al., or Okamura, for reasons cited in previous actions.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 07/30/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

6. Applicant's arguments with regard to Hyon et al., Ku et al., Yao et al. and Okamura do not comply with 37 CFR 1.111(c) because they do not clearly point out the patentable novelty which he or she thinks the claims present in view of the state of the art disclosed by the references cited or the objections made. Further, they do not show how the amendments avoid such references or objections.

7. Regarding Tanihara et al., contrary to applicant arguments, a PVA polymer need not be majority -CH<sub>2</sub>-CHOH-. Even a copolymer of vinyl alcohol, for derivitization of some units or from copolymerization, are generically PVA polymers. A copolymer is only a type of polymer. It's still a polymer and within the scope of the claims. The exclusion of PVA copolymers is not required in the rejected claim(s).

8. Applicant has failed to demonstrate that the cited art are not "injectable", as used in the present claims. The previous declaration is not commensurate in scope with what is actually being claimed, for reason stated in the previous action.

Applicant is reminded that the prior art final product need not correspond with applicant's own final product. If the intermediate product in the prior art meets the compositional requirements for applicant's product, then the requirements to reject that composition claims are met and they are unpatentable over the prior art.

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
